Continental Public Bank
News Release
on a National Banking association

04-11-2018

The American Nationals have been asking questions as to whether or not the Continental Public Bank qualifies as a National Banking association?

The answer to those types of questions is "yes" the Continental Public Bank does qualify as a National Banking association.

Due to the fact that the Continental Public Bank (CPB) is authorized to have branches that are required to register with the office of the Superintendent of Finance and is under the control of the Superintendent of Finance is one qualification.

The second qualification is that the office of the Superintendent of Finance reports to the office of the Treasury for the Government of The United States of America who in turn reports to the National assembly for the Government of The United States of America and therefore is owned and operated by the people of The United States of America in association under the Articles of Confederation as amended August 5th, 2015 brought forward to the present time from the Articles of Confederation of 1781.

The regulation for the office of the Superintendent of Finance is in the following documents list:

- 1: Superintendent of Finance operating and procedures Manual,
- 2: Anti-money laundering policy,
- 3: Anti-terrorism policy,
- 4: Continental Public Bank Charter
- 5: Standard Operating Procedures Manual for General Post Office Division 3

The Continental Public Bank works very hard to protect its members from many types of fraud and refrains from funding organizations that are well known to be openly advocating for the overthrow of this country so therefore any branches formed must be trained in these matters to be able to recognize organizations that are determined for that purpose and mission.

Further, the Continental Public Bank is always seeking new partners and other associations to promote the purpose of the Continental Public Bank which can be reached at: manager@continentalpublicbank.com.
