Offer of Peace and Reconciliation

The current Government of The United States of America sends Greetings to the King of the Netherlands:

The committee for the Government of The United States of America has elected Keith Edward Livingway as Plenipotentiary for this Offer of Peace and Reconciliation.

The following is a list of preliminary conditions that the Government of The United States of America sees as issues that are in need of resolving that will benefit both parties:

- 1: The Government of The United States of America has full access to the global market under its own regulations.
- 2: Resolve all conflict by and between the Dutch, the citizens of the United States and the American Nationals for the Government of The United States of America, including but not limited to the Government of The United States of America and the three city state empire.
- 3: The Government of The United States of America reinstates its signature to the Universal Postal Union Treaty thereby re-validating the United Nations.
- 4: The Ministry of the reign of the heavens society Temple endorses the Crown of the Netherlands thereby re-aligning the Crown of the Netherlands with its chain of title.

5: The United States Government and the Government of The United States of America agrees to a Treaty of Two Paths under this agreement wherein the States of the Union and the U.S. states share the expense and responsibility of infrastructure within each jurisdiction wherein each are recognized as foreign to each other.

6: The current Government of The United States of America is welcomed back into the family of Nations.

The Government of The United States of America looks forward to a counter offer from the King of the Netherlands if these terms are not satisfactory or if the King of the Netherlands wishes to expand on this offer wherein its benefits both parties on a greater scale.

Plenipotentiary for the Government of The United States of America,

Keith Edward Livingway
